Who is spending your Nest Egg??

"Baby Boomers" have worked hard for over 40 years to provide a home, build a family, and save for their golden years. The Golden Years are here now. Their homes and cars are paid for, they have built their "nest egg" and now it's time to enjoy it. You're not really planning to leave everything to your kids and grandkids are you? So others can enjoy the luxuries in life that you worked for and you deserve.

Did you know that for less than $2000, you and your significant other can escape reality for 7 to 10 days including airfare, taxes, comfortable accommodations, all food and entertainment, along with quality time with each other, sharing old memories and making new memories together? You can enjoy fine dining experiences, dress formal or informal it is your choice. If you prefer not to fly, you can drive to your point of embarkation. Why not do something you'll never forget?

May we suggest a cruise vacation departing from any of the following cities:

- New Orleans, Louisiana
- Galveston, Texas
- Tampa, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, Jacksonville, or Port Canaveral, Florida
- New York
- Los Angeles, San Francisco, or San Diego, California
- Seattle, Washington.

You can drive or fly to all these home ports and experience the joy of the total relaxation you worked for all these 40+ years.

Not sure you can leave the grandkids behind? Bring them along for less than $500 a week! There are activities for them to experience, and time for you to share those great stories from generation to generation. You can't take it with you.
